MIA Art in the Park & Art in the MIA's Pop-up Park

Did you know that the MIA is sitting on a Minneapolis park? Yep, it's in Morrison Park, one of Minneapolis's public parks. The museum's connection to the Minneapolis Park and Recreation system is long and strong. Each year, artists from the museum bring art-making activities to over 50 Minneapolis parks. Join in the fun!

Support for Pop-Up Park is provided through a Wallace Excellence Award. Special thanks to Room & Board for its generous support of this project.

SEVEN-GENERATION DRAGON PUPPETS

THURSDAY, MARCH 29, 6-8 P.M.

Location: MIA studios

Section SPR12; FREE, but registration requested.

Make a dragon with May Day Parade artist. Learn about how artists use history to inform their artwork. Think back and dream ahead to tell your own dragon-puppet story. Find out how to get involved in this year's parade while designing a small puppet to take home.

MINI POP-UP PARKS

FRIDAY, APRIL 6, NOON-4 P.M.

Location: MIA studios

Section SPR13; FREE, but registration requested.

Get ready for Earth Day at the MIA! Work with a naturalist from the Minneapolis Park & Recreation Board and an artist from the MIA to make a largescale pop-up park. And create wee pop-ups that express your vision of the perfect park.

GONE FISHIN'

SATURDAY, MAY 19, 11 A.M.-2 P.M.

Section SPR14; Free, but registration requested.

Location: Logan Park

690 13th Ave. NE Minneapolis 55413; (612) 370-4927

Join artists to create art inspired by fish from around the world. And play a fantastically fun fishing game.

This event is part of a family-friendly day at Logan Park and the Northeast Minneapolis gallery crawl, Art-A-Whirl.
